week. He was positively identified by Mrsi Grady.

The negro is a repulsive sort of, a fellow. He attempted to prove an allbi, but it fell through, so far as Justice Crutenfield was concerned. The attempt will again be made when the case comes up in the Hustings Court.

John Monroe was dismissed of the charge of selling liquor to others than members of a social club. The Mann law was 50 complicated, as stated by the Commonwealth's atterney, that nothing more than a revocation of the charter could result on conviction in such a case.

James Rodgers was sent down for twelve months as a regular drunk.

Bill Stanmard was charged six months for being a veg.

Louis Smith paid $10 for being disorderly in the presence of a female friend.

J. W. Sadler and Walter Johnson paid $10 each for beating women.

David Garner was sent on to the grand jury on the charge of pasting Virginia. Walker on the head with a blunt instrument. The gash was a big one, and had to be sewed up by Dr. Sycle.

A few plain drunks were let off.

A rather lusky appetite was about all the after effects he folt.

The work of Mr. Knowles and his beautiful wife still continues to attract widespread attention. Their nightly performances at the Academy are drawling large audiences, which seem to be deeply interested all the time. Many of the experiments produce unusually comical results, and the house is kept in a roar of haughter quring all of the time of the show. There will be a mature Saturday.

"The Sign of the Four."

There is no diminution in the size of the audiences which are visiting the Blou Theatre thits week, where Walter Edwards and a file supporting company are presenting the dramatization of Sir A. Conan Doyle's givan novel. The Sign of the Four. Mr. Edwards has the role of Sherlock Holmes, the cost and calculating detective, and his rendrion of the role never fails to receive the heartiest appliance. The play will be presented at a matinee this evening and again to-night.

the Lungs-Blood Wine Makes Startling A great summer campaign has been Cures.

Do you know what an old, ragged sponge looks like—flabby, torn, without life or elasticity? That's how a human lung appears when consumption has done its deadly work. Yet this terrible discuss is curable—if taken in time. Read the following typical case, that of Miss Louise Clements, 98 Aiken St., Lowell, Mass.:

that of Miss Louise Clements, 98 Alken St., Lowell, Mass.:

"Last winter I caught a cold which settled on my lungs, and for weeks I was unable to get out of the house. As spring drew near, the cold wore off, but left me with a rasping cough, which caused me the greatest alarm. Nothing seemed to stop it; physicians told me that I had developed consumption, and that they could do little for me except to make my life easier, unless I should go to another climate. I was very weak, my skin feverish and my appetite absolutely gone. A friend advised me to try 'Blood Wine,' and from the very first it helped me. My strength came back slowly but surely. I began to enjoy my food. Life became worth living, and to-day I am absolutely well."

Think of it—just a little cold and satisfaction to all.

It is certain that Captain McCarthy has the utmost confidence of the business interests of all lines, and his splendld fight for better methods in the handling of the city's floating debt has marked him as a man of fine business judgment. He has decided to hold his present position of city accountant until he assumes the office of Mayor, as he is a poor man, and is dependent upon his salary for the support of his family.

He is a man much in the public eye at this time, and is eagerly sought after at the City Hall each day.

Captain McCarthy expects, in accordance with his campaign promises, to advise with clitzens and members of the Council as to his public policies, and the general belief is that his public acts will be for the prosperity and betterment of the public of the city, without regard to class.

Over two number of lines and picnics will be held in the various magisterial districts of the counties referred to. A bureau of speakers has been organized, and in this organization there are nearly one hundred of the choicest men of the State-breachers, lawyers, educators, etc. Almost overy denomination and shade of political opinion is represented in this array of workers. Among the counties in which rallies and picnics and conventions will be held are Clarke, Charles City, Chesterfield, Pittsylvania, Bedford, Louisa, Greene, Rockbridge, Lee, Wise, Wythe, Pulasiti, Giles, Craig, Alleghany, Botetourt, Nansemond, Mathews, Middlesex, Gioucester. The first county convention of the year has already been held, viz.: Accomac, on the 12th of April.

Rev. Messrs. West and Richardson have spoken at a number of points in the State since the convention in January, and effective work has been done. Some of the results appearing might be mentioned. The saloons at Onancock have been closed. All the saloons in Northampton county, except those at Cape Charles, have been closed. Powhatan now has no saloons, the last three falling to secure licenses at a recent court. Fluvanna county now has no 'saloons. No licenses were granted in Clarksville. New Kent county is now dry. The "dry" side leads at present at Mt. Jackson with fair prospect of a successful contest at the next session of the court. In the last ten days especially, enthusiasm has greatly increased in the sections visited, and a number of local leagues are making strenous fights against the granting of licenses, Especially in the rural districts is the saloen being closed, and interest in the movement in towns is growing. Especial mention has been made of the wise and effective work of the retiring superintendent, Dr./ G. B. Moore The present campaign has been larkely made possible by strong and effective editorial work, able sermons and addresses and by the tact of one exceedingly skill-ful in the use of his forces.
